Why are my Truist transactions pending?

【+1866➡3813➡314】 Transactions that you see pending are Authorizations from the merchant. These post to【+1866➡3813➡314】 your account when the merchant has sent us in the finalized transaction, which can sometimes take a few days. We advise keeping these listed in 【+1866➡3813➡314】 your register to balance your account.

【+1866➡3813➡314】 Truist transactions are likely pending because they are authorized debits or 【+1866➡3813➡314】 credits that have not yet been finalized, a process that typically takes 1–5 business days. 【+1866➡3813➡314】 These items reduce your "available balance" immediately to ensure funds are held for payment, but they haven't formally settled in your "posted balance".

Common Reasons for Pending Truist Transactions:

- Merchant Holds: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Hotels, gas stations, and restaurants frequently authorize a higher amount than the final purchase, causing a pending hold.
- Processing Times: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Transactions on weekends or holidays generally wait for the next business day.
- ACH/Transfers: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Online transfers or bank payments can take 1 to 5 business days, according to user experiences on Reddit.
- Check Deposits: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Checks require time for verification, especially for new accounts or large amounts.

Key Details to Keep in Mind:

- Balance Accuracy: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 The "available balance" is the most accurate indicator of your spending power, as it already accounts for pending items.

- Timeline: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Most authorized electronic transactions remain pending for up to 3 business days, as detailed on Truist's security pages.
- Zelle: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 According to this Truist FAQ, Zelle payments cannot be reversed once sent.

How long does it take for pending transactions to post to Truist?

【+1866➡3813➡314】 Truist pending transactions typically take 1 to 3 business days to post, though some holds 【+1866➡3813➡314】 may last up to 5 business days, especially for holds on check deposits or specific merchant authorizations. While pending, these funds are 【+1866➡3813➡314】 deducted from your available balance, and transactions 【+1866➡3813➡314】 usually settle during nightly processing, excluding weekends and federal holidays.

Key Details on Truist Pending Times:

- Debit Card Transactions: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Usually move from pending to posted within 1–3 business days, though some may take up to 5 days.
- Hotel/Rental Car Holds: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 These may remain pending for up to 3 business days, or longer depending on when the merchant finalizes the charge.
- Check Deposits:【+1866➡3813➡314】 Standard availability is usually the next business day after the deposit, processed during nightly, business-day processing.
- Weekend/Holiday Impact: 【+1866➡3813➡314】 Transactions pending over a weekend or federal holiday will not post until the next business day.

If a transaction 【+1866➡3813➡314】 remains pending for longer than 3–5 business days, it is recommended to check with the 【+1866➡3813➡314】 merchant or contact Truist customer support to ensure the authorization was not delayed.
